

DA50

USB-to-Headset Adapter

Bring the Quality and Comfort of Plantronics® Headsets to VoIP Softphones

Now you can bring the superior sound quality and comfort of Plantronics' most popular H-Series headsets to Voice-over-IP (VoIP) softphones with the Plantronics DA50. The DA50 USB-to-headset adapter lets you retain the investment of your Plantronics headsets while taking advantage of the benefits of VoIP.

The Plantronics DA50 is simple to install, plugs directly into the USB port of your personal computer and features Digital Signal Processing (DSP) for crisp, clear sound. The DSP technology also enables a Plantronics exclusive—our PerSono™ Pro™ software.

The PerSono Pro software enables call center agents to optimize the audio qualities of their headsets for enhanced communications with their customers:

- Predefined equalization settings: Seven different settings let agents select the audio profile that provides the clearest, most intelligible incoming sound.
- Microphone volume self-test: Agents can test the microphone volume level and hear how they sound to their customers.
- Microphone placement test: Agents can record and play back their own voice to ensure that their microphone is correctly placed. Particularly helpful with noise-canceling microphones.

The Plantronics DA50 features inline volume and mute controls for added convenience, and a two-year warranty.
